

Proven Practices for Managing and Testing IT Projects

September 26-28, 2011 ~ Baltimore / Washington Area

Dear Conference Attendee,

I wanted to once again invite you to our Mid-Atlantic Software Quality and Program Management Conference taking place September 26 - 28, 2011 in Baltimore/Washington D.C. Area.

This conference with extended length tutorials and workshops that enhance the learning experience may qualify for Tuition Assistance and Reimbursement. Check with your employer.

Benefits from attending the conference:

- Receive proven ideas and processes that you can immediately apply to your projects
- Network with industry experts and attendees
- Valuable inexpensive PDU's toward your PMP certification
- Valuable inexpensive CEU's toward your QAI, ASQ, ISC or ISACA certifications

Register or Contact us by August 15, 2011 and receive $100 off your registration!

REGISTER NOW

This is a cost effective three day conference priced at $695 which includes daily continental breakfast, hot buffet lunch, two coffee breaks daily, and Parking is free!

Included in the price is a special one day workshop on Software Assurance Enabling Reliability, Resilience, Robustness, and Security facilitated by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

<http://www.qaiglobalcommunity.org/mid-atlantic/security.html>

Our Conference Key Notes:

- Joe Jarzombek with DHS - Software Assurance Enabling Reliability, Resilience, Robustness, and Security
- Karl Best with PMI - How PMI is developing Certifications and Methods to Manage Agile
- Jim Butler with NCIS - Building Quality into an IT Infrastructure

Learn More about the Program:

<http://www.qaiglobalcommunity.org/mid-atlantic/program.html>

If you have any questions or comments, please contact the QAAM Conference Program Chair.
Susan Burgess at susan.burgess@keane.com
571-232-0683

Do you want to learn the latest:

- Information on Implementing Agile Project Management (APM), SCRUM, or XP in your organization, and the Project Management Institute (PMI) Agile Certification
- Benefits, Risks, and Ways to help Manage and Test in the Cloud Environment
- Techniques every tester should know including developing an automated testing process.
- Writing good requirements that can be verified or designing test cases
- Information on cost effective Independent Verification and Validation (IV&V) and Cost of Quality techniques for software
- Software industry best practices such as CMMI for Services, ITILv3, PMBOK and ISACA's Risk IT Framework

Learn More about the Program:

<http://www.qaiglobalcommunity.org/mid-atlantic/program.html>

